"Finding the Path to Your Family Story"

Stephanie Twyford's mission is to help individuals preserve their personal stories in timeless, high-quality multimedia presentations for succeeding generations. Her keen interest in creating personal videos led her to the creation of Legacy Multimedia, which allows her to combine her talents in the fields of visual art and writing and editing.

Twyford will share her knowledge of the importance of crafting a meaningful and engaging presentation for one's family and future family. Her commitment to high-quality work helps put people at ease as they capture their stories to pass on to loved ones. Knowing what to ask our aging family members and what to include in a collection of anecdotes simplifies our goals of defining the persona of someone one loves dearly.

Whether you feel it's time to create your own story or that of a loved parent, you will want to hear this award-winning artist tell her own tale of helping others to chronicle their life experiences. Zoom with us at 9:45 a.m. on Saturday, May 15th.

President's Message

Dear West Harris County AAUW Members,

Hopefully, you have received your COVID vaccine if it is appropriate for you to do so. Many of us have and are looking forward to getting out more. However, AAUW National has not yet given the go ahead for us to have in person meetings. Please be respectful of their guidelines.

The COVID guidelines will impact our end of the year luncheon. We have Plan A and Plan B for this event.

Plan A: A luncheon at Maggiano's on June 12 with a limited number of guests. Karen North has offered to stream the presentation by Poppy Northcutt so all can participate.

Plan B: The entire June 12 meeting will be held online.

With this in mind, you will receive a blast after the May 10, 2021, board meeting, letting you know the decision. This decision hinges on National releasing branches to have in person meetings.

Please continue to let either Susanne Dalati, Corresponding Secretary, or myself know of important events in member's lives. West Harris County wants to be a support system for our membership.

Stay Well!
Carolyn Morris
President AAUW-WHC

Membership

Although National AAUW is not allowing group gatherings, West Harris County Branch is preparing for our first opportunity! We are getting ready for the annual Branch Recognition Luncheon on Saturday, June 12, 2021 at Maggiano's Italian Restaurant. The Baker-Telfer Scholarship presentation and a program by Poppy Northcutt will be on the agenda. Additionally, we are preparing for the Branch Membership Coffee at Memorial Drive United Methodist Church on August 28th. New and returning members will receive an invitation as time grows near and restrictions are removed.

It is important to renew your dues so you can participate in AAUW-WHC. Please help our branch by renewing your membership online. You received a renewal form unique to you on March 29, 2021, from Memberinfo@aauw.org. By renewing online with a credit card, you save the cost to national of paying someone to enter the information manually. If you prefer, you can send a check to Diane Roberts (5607 St. Paul St., Bellaire, TX 77401). This year dues are $86.00.

Please also remember not all members are able to attend ZOOM meetings, but a card or a phone call is important to their feeling connected with WHC members.

Always important these days is staying safe. If anyone needs a ride for COVID vaccine, please give me a call. Thank you to all of you that continue make West Harris County Branch a vibrant organization.

VOTER SUPPRESSION

Access to the ballot is key to democratic government. It allows the citizens to participate in shaping policy through direct referendums and choice of political representation. It is not only a right; it is a duty of every citizen to participate. Voter suppression is a means of depriving citizens of the right to voting access, i.e., disenfranchisement. A political party may choose to enact voter suppression measures to avoid the necessity of having to justify their agenda. It is a way of tilting the playing field to avoid competition in the marketplace of ideas and to avoid having to compromise. If you set the conditions of assured election wins, you never have to worry about appealing to more than a reliable, carefully chosen base. Voter suppression improves the ability of a particular party to retain power and to avoid accountability. It is a tactic favored by authoritarian leaders of every description. Voter suppression in any form has no place in a democracy.

Voter suppression takes many forms. They include banning drive through voting and 24-hour access to polls. Other such efforts include limiting early voting, closing polls at 7 p.m. regardless of voters remaining on line to cast a ballot, limiting access to mail-in ballot drop boxes, limiting polling places. There is disagreement about what is gained by demanding ID from people casting a ballot.

Specific to Texas, Both HB 6 and SB 7 impose a gag rule on election officials that prohibit them from “soliciting” votes by mail applications from Texans, backed up by criminal penalties. The language is so broad that they likely prohibit local officials from even mentioning the mere existence of voting by mail unless first prompted by a voter. These bills also undermine confidentiality for voters with disabilities and limited English proficiency with invasive questions that may require disclosure of private or medically confidential information. Also, these bills would give partisan poll watchers free rein in polling places. Texas poll watchers have a notorious track record of intimidating Black voters and voters of color, including in 2020. Allowing poll watchers to videotape voters inside the polls is an intimidating tactic.

Any election law that makes it more difficult to vote, and may disproportionately discourage participation by Black or Brown voters, should be seen as an attempt at voter suppression. Many people struggle with shift work, transportation, and child care. The Supreme Court in 2013 in Shelby V. Holder removed the ability of the Justice Department to enforce the Voting Rights Act of 1965 provision allowing oversight of states inclined toward discriminatory election practices. The rationale was that racism is a thing of the past.

A continuing problem with our elections in this country is low voter turnout. The election of 2020 had one of the best rates of voter participation that we have seen in many years. Moreover, there seems to be widespread agreement that the election of 2020 was a very free and fair election. There seems to be agreement that the 2020 election had no widespread fraud. Lawsuit after lawsuit has failed to demonstrate otherwise. No proof has ever been offered of widespread fraud.

Forty-three state legislatures have brought forth election legislation in the name of promoting integrity and confidence in the electoral process. There is a saying “If it ain’t broke, don’t fix it.” As voters we need to understand what these proposed bills seek to fix and how passing them would address potential fraud.

AAUW WHC Branch Archives

Collection of documents

The end of the AAUW fiscal year is fast approaching, and it will be time to assemble the WHC Branch records/documents of our activities for the past year. Below are the guidelines for collecting them. Martha Ewell, Historian, is responsible for gathering these records for transfer to the U of H Library Carey Shuart Women's Research Collection. The fiscal year is always July 1 to June 30.

The U of H Library Archivist encourages us to collect as many digital, paper, and loose materials as possible. There is ample archival storage space to accommodate all materials that we collect that will contribute to our history and activities throughout the year.

Please send all documents to Martha Ewell, email: marthaewell@att.net

Documents to collect and person responsible:

- Items such as pictures, old WHC video tapes and ephemera that individual members would like to submit to the archives.
- AAUW special interest groups (contents of emails or other publications when appropriate, photos, etc.)—the Leaders of each special interest/activity group
- Obituaries of AAUW WHC Branch members—the Corresponding Secretary
- Records still held in the personal collections of past leaders and members
- Records of Student Affiliate's activities

Timeline:

- Data collection takes place on an annual basis at the end of the calendar year on June 30.
- All documents collected are submitted to the U of H Library Special Collections by the following August or September.
- The Branch Historian is responsible for collecting all documents both digital and paper.

Types of Documents:

- Digital documents—including primary digital documents. May be submitted on a zip/thumb drive or by email if appropriate.
- Paper documents—handouts, brochures, folders, any kind of paper document that supports the activity, etc. Paper documents are significant source of research material. Researchers like to “feel” the material and to view it in its original format. and find that these documents add to their understanding and appreciation of the materials by bringing it alive. Please make sure the documents are identified and dated.
- Memorabilia—any special items/artifacts that are pertinent to our activities but do not fall into the category of paper or digital documents.
- Audio-visual materials—Photos of meetings, events, special interest group activities—documented with date, activity, and the names of AAUW participants featured in the photo, power point presentations, videos. These may also be included in newsletters.
- Photos—it is essential to identify the members in the photos, the activity, the group, the date of activity and anything else which pertains to the photo. Without clear identification the photos have no meaning to the audience at large.

May, 2021 ACTIVITIES & INTEREST GROUP NEWS

Sharon Jorgeson, Activities Coordinator

WISE Activity Group

Please join us on Monday, May 3rd at 10:00 a.m. as we finish our conversation about Jane Goodall and her continued work on conservation.

In April we listened to Lessons on Advocacy Strategies and Communication. This month we will learn about her advocacy in action through Roots and Shoots and Reasons for Hope. And can discuss next steps such as making connections with what the City of Houston is doing for conservation locally, <http://www.greenhoustontx.gov/>.

Please let Karen North know if you would like to join our Zoom conversation. knorth@me.com

Garden Divas

The Garden Divas will get Ideas for Native Pollinators in their May Meeting.

The Garden Divas will explore some ideas to replenish their frozen landscapes as well as learn how to create an environment to help save beneficial bees. We will 'ZOOM' with Jennifer Feeley, a Texas Master Gardener. She will enlighten the group with her expertise on native pollinators. Jennifer currently works at Wabash Feed & Garden, and has been doing organic gardening for over 30 years. She had one of the Organic Farms in the Coastal area. We will have an onsite 'ZOOM' at Wabash Feed Store to get up close and personal with suggested specimens. Wabash Feed & Garden has one of the most extensive selections of organic gardening supplies found in Houston.

Garden designs for pollinators do not need to be complicated, expensive or time-consuming. That's the beauty of going native! Pollinators have simple needs: they need a year-round supply of pesticide-free food and water, and bare ground or wood for nesting. Suggested plants include drought and heat tolerant plants that bloom and provide food most of the year, and are usually available locally.

Use pollinator-friendly landscape management practices. Avoid toxic pesticides, use organic alternatives instead which are safer for your family and pets. Limit pruning dead or dying branches with hollow stems; if possible, allow dead trees to stand or leave trunk stumps. Limit mowing grassy areas with low, dense cover. Limit artificial light sources, insects need natural light/dark cycles and protection from predators.

Most of all have fun! Your garden will delight you with new discoveries each day. Please let Susan Boone smboone@gmail.com know whether you want to learn about ways to help the area bees. The session will be May 4, @ 10:00 a.m. via ZOOM. If you are NOT on the Diva email list and want to be, please let me know.

Cultural Tours

A Tribute to Priscilla List

As many of you know, Priscilla was in charge of the cultural tour activities and committee for years. She did an amazing job introducing us to Houston and surrounding areas always making sure that a special lunch time was included for socializing. The cultural tours ended up being the activity of the month, a fun filled day and excellent way to meet other members and make new friends.

Priscilla will be greatly missed. May her memory be a blessing.

As things start opening up again let's restart the tours. Please let Coordinator, Pat Farnell know if you are interested in being on the cultural tour committee. Contact her at farnellpat@gmail.com or 832-867-2908.
